

LANGE NACHT DER MUSEEN 29.08.2026

Berlin, 24th August 2026

ON SATURDAY IT'S FINALLY TIME: THE LONG NIGHT OF MUSEUMS SETS OUT ON THE TRAIL OF CRIME

On the 29th of August, the Long Night of Museums will take place for the 44th time in Berlin. 75 museums will open their doors and invite the public to 750 events inspired by this year's theme "Crime in Berlin". Historical criminal cases, curious finds and fascinating insights into modern crime prevention will be the highlights of the diverse programme.

Whether tracking down an art theft, examining forensic exhibits or taking a look at the future of cybercrime – this year the Long Night of Museums will be taking its visitors on the trail of crime. From early in the evening till late into the night, there will be guided tours, talks, concerts, workshops and performances, where robberies will be investigated, forgeries uncovered and plenty of room will be left for the love of the macabre. Anyone who wants to plan their own tour through the Long Night, can find inspiration on our website in our specially curated routes: for example, the skills for a life of crime can be learned on the route "Mission Mauritius", while the route "(In)visible Women" tracks down the most brazen theft of ideas from female artists and "Bonnie & Clyde" will guide adventurous couples through a night of little heists, secret missions and unforgettable memories.

The Lustgarten on the Museumsinsel will once again be the meeting point for this year's Long Night, where, along with street food and refreshments, a crime quiz and all the information and tips you'll need for the extensive programme, plus silent film concerts, await visitors. The museums all over the city will be connected by four shuttle bus lines and the historical S-Bahn train, which will tell the story of its very own criminal history.

The Long Night of Museums offers access to 75 museums, exhibition spaces and memorials all over Berlin with only one ticket.

You can find the full programme of the Long Night of Museums, recommended routes and also the Museo-Mat, which gives you personalised tips depending on your preferences, at www.langenachtdermuseen.berlin.
